

May 14: Transforming the Culture of Serious Illness Communication

Discussing values, goals of care and wishes when faced with a progressive life-limiting illness can be a difficult conversation to start. Engaging in this conversation as a caregiver of a loved one or as a care provider can help inform decisions on medical (and other) interventions plus advanced care planning, resulting in a better quality of life

Facilitated by two leading experts from Harvard Medical School, this Town Hall will help you understand the importance of these conversations and provide you with tools on how to start a serious illness conversation.

Brief presentation will be followed with time for questions and discussion.
